Hon. Charley E. Johns,
President of the Senate.
Sir:

I am directed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House of Representatives has passed by the required Constitutional two-thirds vote of all members of the House of Representatives present, the Governor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding—

By Mr. Gleaton of Citrus—

H. B. No. 838—(1953 Session) An Act repealing Chapter 27461, Laws of Florida, Acts of 1951, relating to closing of part of Homasassa River to certain fishing.

—and respectfully requests the concurrence of the Senate therein.

Respectfully,

LAMAR BLEDSOE,

Chief Clerk, House of Representatives.

And House Bill No. 838 (1953 Regular Session), contained in the above message, was read by title together with the following objections thereto of the Honorable Dan McCarty, Governor of Florida.

STATE OF FLORIDA

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

TALLAHASSEE

May 19, 1953

Hon. C. Farris Bryant
Speaker of the House of Representatives
House of Representatives
Tallahassee, Florida

Sir:

Pursuant to the authority vested in me as Governor of Florida, under the provisions of Section 28, Article III, of the Constitution of this State, I hereby transmit to you, with my objections, House Bill No. 838, enacted by the Legislature of 1953, and entitled:

"AN ACT REPEALING CHAPTER 27461, LAWS OF FLORIDA, ACTS OF 1951, RELATING TO CLOSING OF PART OF HOMASASSA RIVER TO CERTAIN FISHING."

This Bill seeks to repeal a local law enacted by the Legislature of 1951, Chapter 27461, Laws of Florida, Special Acts 1951, which closed a portion of the Homasassa River, in Citrus County, Florida, to certain designated types of fishing, such as by means of snatch hooks and nets.

The Supreme Court of Florida has held in the case of State v. Stoutamire, 179 So. 730, that a statute which regulates fishing in a particular portion of a river within a designated area is local as to the area in which it operates and that the constitutional requirement for special or local laws must be observed as to such statutes.

Section 21, Article 3, of the Constitution of Florida provides that no special or local law shall be passed unless notice of intention to apply therefor shall have been published as required therein or unless there be a referendum in the law.

This Bill would restore to certain portions of the Homasassa River those types of fishing that were previously forbidden by the aforesaid local law enacted in 1951. In short, this Act regulates fishing in the designated area of the Homasassa River, in Citrus County, Florida. Therefore, this is a local law. As such, Section 21, Article 3, of the Constitution requires in most unequivocal, positive terms that "notice of intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the manner provided by law where the matter or thing to be affected may be situated, which notice shall be published in the manner provided by law at least thirty days prior to introduction into the Legislature of any such bill" or "that the same shall not become operative or effective until ratified or approved at a referendum election to be called and held in the territory affected in accordance with a provision therefor contained in such bill, or provided by general law".

There is no proof of publication attached to this Act and it fails to provide for a referendum. Therefore, this Bill is patently defective because of its failure to conform to the constitutional requirements of a local bill.

Since the passage of this Bill, I have received an unusually large number of communications from residents of the area affected by this Act, protesting the lack of knowledge of the proposed legislation and opportunity to be heard thereon.

The people of this State have a right, guaranteed to them by their Constitution, to be put on notice in advance of any proposed local legislation, or to vote thereon in a referendum, and any infringement of this right, innocent though it may be, is to be eschewed.

For the foregoing reasons, I therefore withhold my approval from House Bill No. 838, Legislative Session of 1953, and I hereby veto the same.

Respectfully,

DAN McCARTY
Governor

Senator Connor moved that the rules be waived and the Senate take up and consider House Bill No. 838 (1953 Regular Session).

Which was agreed to by a two-thirds vote.

The President put the question: "Shall the bill pass, the Governor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding?"
